

FREEZE -THAW CYCLE MAKES FOR SLIPPERY SURFACES

It's that time of year once again where we notice the freeze-thaw cycle. The best way to protect yourself is to be mindful of slippery surfaces — especially when weather temperatures dip below zero. If you notice slippery surfaces anywhere in your work area, please take the time to mitigate the danger by applying some sand or salt to the area.

STAY SAFE, EVERYONE!

Need more safety resources? Visit us online at:
www.selectsafetycommunications.com